WORKSHOP

SOCIALLY ENGAGED ART PRACTICES AND EDUCATION IN CONTEMPORARY DISCOURSE

As Cittadellarte is an organization born from art, rather than merely for art, we constantly reflect onto ourselves as a project, assessing the need and raison d'être of our organization and the consistency between its form and this aim.

We have thus come to the intention of conducting a major innovation in Unidee format, in recent years, and in this line of thinking/acting we are launching a 3 days WORKSHOP ON SOCIALLY ENGAGED ART PRACTICES AND EDUCATION IN CONTEMPORARY DISCOURSE.

Its participants are professional and experts from the field of art making, education, curating, production and critique. An extensive publication will be one of the outcome of this whole exercise and a READER has already been compiled as a preliminary working document to feed a feedback loop within the process.

"New UNIDEE stems from a series of meetings and reflections shared with a vast group of practitioners and thinkers and with former years participants, committed to an open exploration of the status of artist residencies in the world and the prospects opened up to educational platforms in relation to the profound changes that have characterized recent years. After having been for 15 years a space for research and experimentation dedicated to young artists working in the social sphere dealing with globalization's forms of the '90s, UNIDEE wants, today, to tackle the questions that globalization itself has generated. Socially engaged art practitioners are increasingly drawn into a precarious and uprooted existence, passing by a residency program to another in disparate locations, without the possibility of "putting down roots" in any place and engaging in the role of artivating processes of social transformation. The new form of UNIDEE, with modules of residence of shorter duration and with its flexible structure, wants to give the opportunity to share, learn and experience without that sense of precariousness and rootlessness that makes artists very cosmopolitan, but much less effective in their action. The aim is to give way to a re-localization (see appropedia.org) of artivators, making them able to put roots without losing the chance of taking part into contexts of highly specialized and focused reflection.

The University of ideas aims to being not so much a school but a Power Station constantly connected with those who participate into it, feed it and are, at the same time, in action on the ground in their locale." Paolo Naldini, from the WORKSHOP READER
