I. How to write an essay?

A literary essay presupposes an argument, a thesis (main idea) to be defended
=> clear structure

The literary analysis goes beyond the first level of reading => themes and aesthetic techniques used

- Themes : issues examined through the story (universal idea)
- Techniques: how the text is written to support/reinforce the themes

II. Structuring your essay

3 parts

- Introduction
 - Development
 - Paragraph 1 => theme 1
 - Paragraph 2 => theme 2
 - Conclusion
- =>Each part has a clear structure

1. Introduction = one paragraph

Programmatic function

- Context: author? title? when?
- Main idea =>formulation of theme statement in abstract language
- “Stages” of your essay

After this introduction, summarise the short story in one short paragraph (4-5 lines)->what, who, when, where, why, how?

Examples :

- In her (date) short story entitled “title,” (name of the author) examines the complex issues of (themes).
- In (date), (name of the author) published his/her short story “title” in order to discuss / explore / re-evaluate / comment on / denounce / criticise the (themes)
- The following essay shows how these themes are explored through the author’s use of specific aesthetic strategies, such as (state the main ones).
- This essay argues that the literary techniques of (select which ones in particular) help the author back up / reinforce / convey these themes.

- Development

the longest part; several paragraphs

- One main idea per paragraph.
- Internal structure : the “sandwich method”
- Smooth transition onto the next paragraph / theme
- Isolate important keywords and see how they relate to each other and devise a coherent hierarchy between them
